"I am so grateful that we entrusted [my mother] to your care. She was happy and was cared for so well"

"Thank you all for caring for my Dad so well. He is looking the best he has for years."

A recently refurbished retirement home of elegance and distinction, Milford House, near Belper and Duffield, was formerly the country residence of Jedediah Strutt, a leading pioneer industrialist of the 18th century.

This beautiful grade II listed building and its adjoining Coach House were transformed into a tastefully renovated retirement home in 1985. Today, its distinct Georgian elegance is coupled with a warm and friendly atmosphere, and the Home has recently been refurbished in a contemporary chic style.

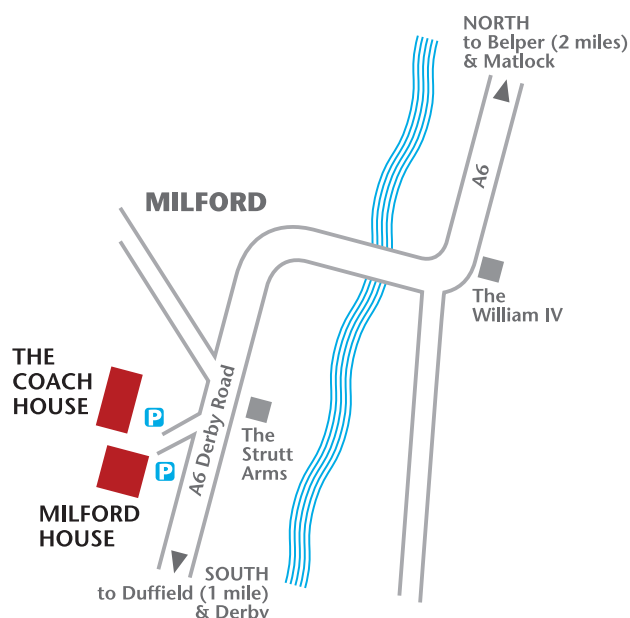

Milford House's beautifully landscaped and mature gardens are frequently visited by various kinds of fur and feather wildlife, and can be enjoyed at any time of the year from our south facing conservatory.

Above all, we like our residents at Milford House to feel not only at home but also part of one big family. Helping us achieve this are many local staff who attend to their needs and wishes. Our highly experienced teams take pride in what they do, and are dedicated to making our residents as comfortable as possible during their stay, whether it be for a short break or on a more permanent basis. We pride ourselves on delivering person-centred care, with Care Plans tailored to meet the individual's needs and wishes.

At Milford House you can enjoy a varied menu of delicious home cooked meals, chosen by our residents and prepared onsite by our experienced kitchen team. You can also engage in different activities and events. Our activity coordinators design a varied entertainment programme including baking, games, movie nights, aromatherapy hand massage and exercise classes.

Our reputation for providing excellent care goes well beyond our immediate locality. This is why residents come to us from different parts of Derbyshire, including Duffield, Hazelwood, Quarndon, Allestree, Coxbench, Derby, Ashbourne, Turnditch, Wirksworth, Matlock and Belper.

If you would like to know more about our home, or visit us, please contact us. We will be delighted to show you around.

"At 84, Mum's health was deteriorating and she no longer felt comfortable in her own home and could not cope. Milford House is bright, clean, tastefully decorated and welcoming. The staff, most importantly, the carers, are warm and friendly and truly show they care and have made what is a difficult transition a much easier one for Mum. Thank you all! P.S. Food is great."
(Relative Review on carehome.co.uk, April 2017)

"My father has lived in Milford House Care Home for almost a year. Throughout this time he has been treated with respect and kindness. He suffers from dementia and at times becomes confused. During such times the staff have been patient and caring. He always responds positively to staff and seems relaxed and contented. Regular activities are organised, either as a group or with individual residents. Visitors are given a warm reception and the management are friendly and approachable."
